

- Lower turnover rate with teachers
 - Sis is very important to parents and would like to see it utilized more and be kept more up to date, has improved but still have room for more improvement
Update: May 1-5 is Teacher Appreciation, group to help with appreciation lunches, snacks, etc. /parent volunteers to assist Mr. Alderson
- Bathroom Doors – Have been put back on
- Student mentors, a+ tutoring at highschool Update: discussed with Mr. Alderson the possibility of teachers identifying opportunities for students to help “tutor “ classmates in Advisory periods
- Parent meeting attendance incentive Update: looking into doing a “door prize” type raffle at the meetings to help increase meeting attendance
- All call was most effective communication
- More focused levels of learning, smaller groups Update: discussed with Mr. Alderson, it is definitely an educational goal of the school to identify opportunities to address student’s specific needs in more focused learning opportunities
- Update school webpage including activities, better PR for the school Update: Mr. Alderson to work with the Activities Office to update activities/sports pages with current information
- “Activities Committee” developed to help in event planning for activities/sports to build school spirit and community participation Update: Looking into getting involved in the Winfield Run/Walk with Coach Presley to support Bright Futures, have a table at the race; Looking into a Winfield Window Cling for our first fund raiser; Also considering a parent/teacher/student volleyball night
- Overall culture of the school, need to work towards more inclusiveness and community involvement
- Parent tutorials for Sis site, freshman parent orientation Update: We are planning to have a “table” at back to school and freshman events, we will be working with Mr. Alderson for appropriate content to help orientate parents/guardians
- Social media, facebook page, web page for Parents4parents Update: Facebook page will be up by next meeting in May

Next meeting will be Monday May 15 at 6:00p in the High School Commons

We will discuss items above and what is presented at the meeting on May 9 with Ms. Baker